

The isoperimetric inequality in General Relativity

We prove new isoperimetric inequalities in Riemannian and Lorentzian manifolds that are related to the description of mass and energy in General Relativity. The methods employ geometric evolution equations such as mean curvature flow and inverse mean curvature flow.